What is God? In this unit students will look at different views on God and what we can know about God and what God is	Hindu belief and practises: In this unit students will provide insights into the diverse ways in which Hindus worship God, other key Hindu beliefs and the key elements of the Hindu way of life in the modern world.	The world of Buddhism: In this unit students will investigate some of the important aspects of Buddhism's history, beliefs, practices and varied expressions in the world today, as well as reflecting on the reason why the appeal of Buddhism is growing.	Sikh belief and practise: In this unit students will consider some of the benefits, as well as the challenges, associated with Sikhism today and reflect upon the contributions that Sikhs make to society in modern Britain.	Atheism in the modern world: In this unit students will explore the place of non-religious positions within contemporary society. It will enable students to appreciate that many people do not possess a religious faith and either reject the possibility of God or are uncertain about whether or not God exists. With the majority of people in Britain today stating 'no religion' as their religious identity, taking account of non-belief and the reason for this position will be increasingly important for students seeking to understand the complex religious character of the Western world.	How did we get here? In this unit students will explore different beliefs and theories of how the universe and with-it life came to be.
Assessment: Baseline assessment on key terms and concepts around the idea of God	Assessment: End of Unit Assessment on Hindu beliefs, practises and key terms	Assessment: End of unit assessment on Buddhist beliefs, practises and key terms	Assessment: End of unit assessment on Sikh beliefs, practises and key terms	Assessment: Written speech where students will consider whether Britain is a secular	Assessment: Creative project on different stories of creation
